Daniel Gonzales is a graduate lawyer from Pontificia Universidad Católica del Perú. His practice is focused on Mergers and Acquisitions, Antitrust and Project Finance.

He has participated in several financings and merger and acquisitions transactions, as well as in providing legal counsel in corporate matters to both national and foreign clients. He has also experience representing clients in administrative proceedings before the National Institute for the Defense of Competition and Protection of Intellectual Property (Indecopi) and the Private Investment Promotion Agency (Proinversión).

He has been assistant professor of Commercial Law at Pontificia Universidad Católica del Perú (2008-2009). He has been a lecturer of the Corporations workshop organized by Themis – Revista de Derecho, a law review edited by the students of the Law School of the Pontificia Universidad Católica del Perú. He was member of both the Financing and Social Development Committees of Themis – Revista de Derecho. He is author of several articles related to corporate law and concessions published in specialized law review.
